

28th Session of the Conference of the States Parties
27 November – 1 December 2023
King Willem Alexander Room, World Forum, Den Haag

Seating arrangements

To determine the order of the seating arrangements for CSP-28 in the plenary room of the World Forum (King Willem Alexander) a lot was drawn during the meeting of the General Committee held on the 16th of October 2023. As a result, the delegation of Argentina has been selected to start the order of the seating plan in the first position of the first row (on the right-hand side of the podium). The rest of the seats have been assigned alphabetically in a counterclockwise direction, beginning on the right and moving to the left with each new row.

The seating plan contains only the States Parties registered to Conference through INDICO. The assignment of the seats is as follows:

- The States Parties that registered within the deadline of the 16th of November as communicated by the Technical Secretariat in the Note Verbale (NV/ERD/PPB-913) circulated on the 19th of October 2023, have been assigned a seat in alphabetical order starting from Argentina.
- The States Parties that submit their registration forms after the established deadline will be allocated seats following the order of their registration.

It is to be noted that for technical reasons all representatives of States Parties that will register their attendance during the session will be assigned a desk and nameplate on their arrival but will be able to use the debate system of the plenary room only after the first possible break.

The seating plan below reflects the registrations received with the deadline indicated above.

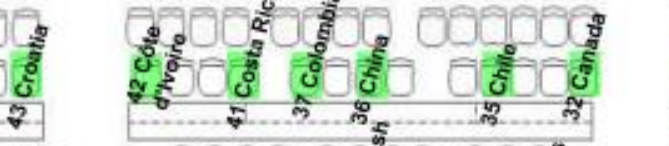

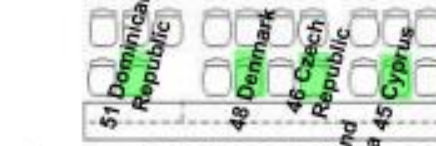

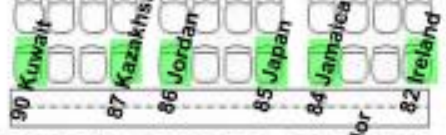

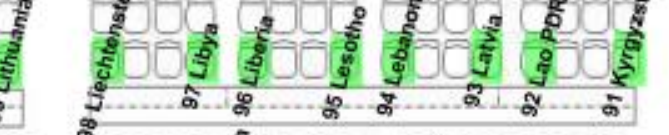

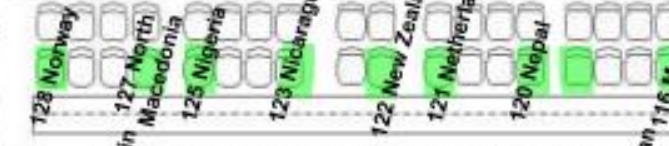

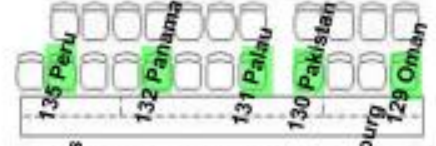

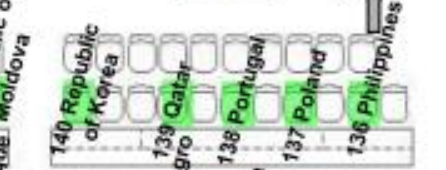

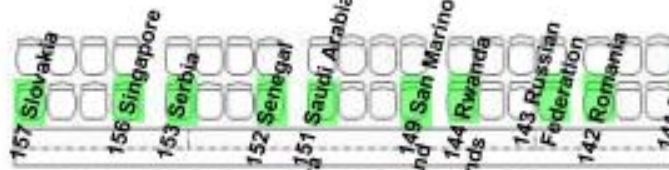

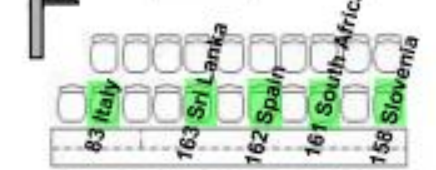

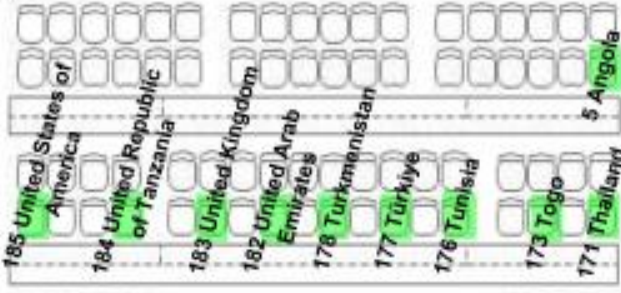

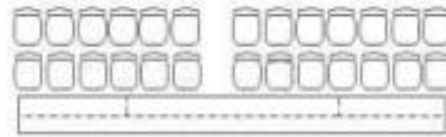

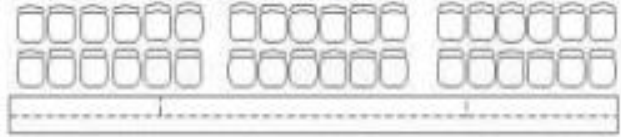

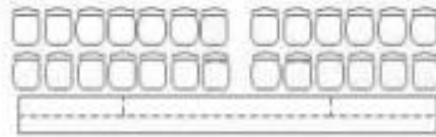

The updated seating plan will be displayed at the entrance of the plenary room during the session.
